

MALAR FLUSH PREVIEW

Q. What is malar flush and what advantage will I have in studying this course?

A. Malar flush is a commonly seen and an as commonly missed sign signifying serious underlying illness. If you see a malar flush in your patient it can signify one of the following conditions: .

- ✓ A smoldering K Water Deficiency
- ✓ A HT yin Deficiency
- ✓ A LU yin Deficiency
- ✓ A LV yin Stagnation

This course teaches you how to differentially diagnose the flush so that it refines a diagnosis and suggests an effective treatment mode. In that sense this course will significantly add to your clinical expertise.

Q. How is the course presented and how much time should I figure on to complete it?.

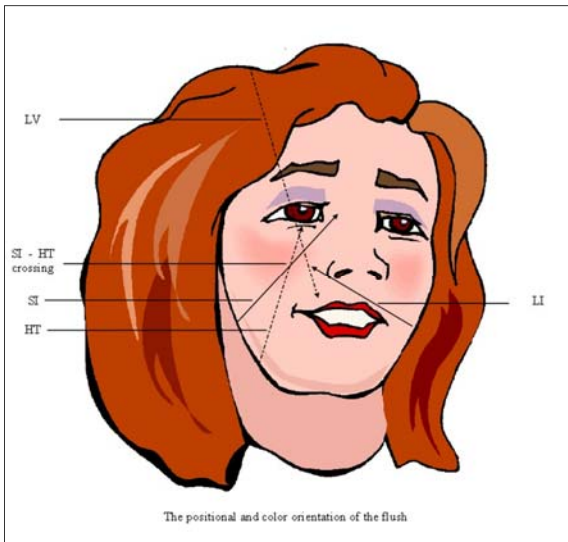

- A. • Narrative portion on 3 CDS running 12 tracks - run time 3 hours
 • A workbook of 27 pages with images - suggested reading time 2 hours

Q. What is the Look Listen & Learn System© on which this course is based?

A. The narrative is specifically coupled to an image or diagram so knowledge comes naturally. Some examples:

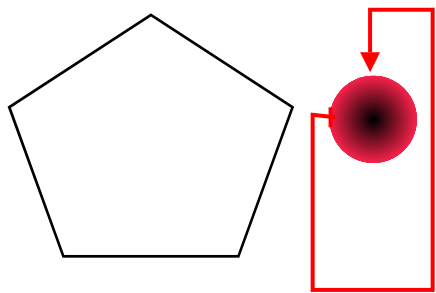

◀ This image presents the face in flesh with it's bony counterpart by the side. The malar flush is constructed on it so that you know the boundaries on which it will present in the clinic.

◀ This image presents the channels which contribute to the genesis of the flush. By finding out which channel is involved one can deduce the organ system which is causing the flush and go towards a diagnosis.

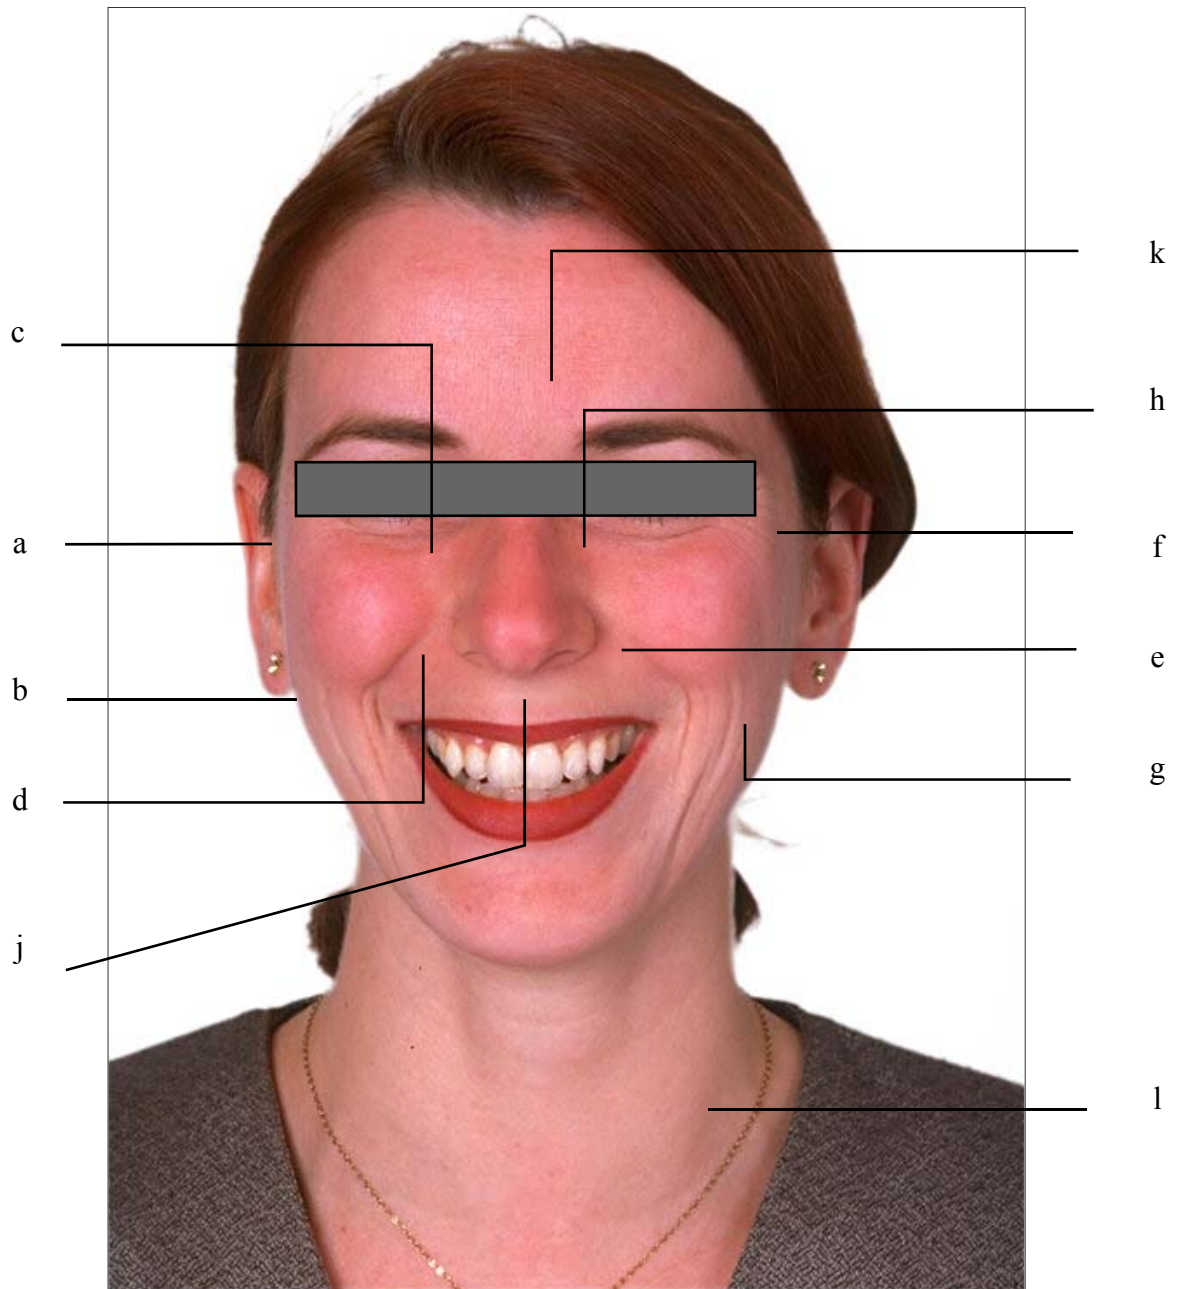

Pl turn to next page

◀ The qi energetics are based on the Fiftieth Difficult Issue in the Nan Ching Classic and are presented as fine color coded line diagrams to make for easy understanding.

CASE STUDIES ▼

At the end of the course we present two case studies which differentially diagnose the malar flush simply based on the signs which can be seen in the patient's face. See example below:

Pl turn to next page

Q. What else can I hope to gain from this course?

A. A sound foundation in the Fiftieth Difficult Issue which forms the basis of almost all serious cases you will see in your practice. This is the easiest form of five element work there is.

You also gain an understanding of the horary clock's working with reference to flush as well as how the opposite poles of the clock present mimicking illnesses when one condition may be mistaken for another.

Finally the work will help you to becoming the Spirit Healer of the Nan Ching Sixty First Difficult where you diagnose solely from color changes in the hue of the face. There is no higher form of diagnosis.

Q. How is the flow of the course?

A. Created specifically with the hard working professional in mind. It is easy, simple and still highly clinical. It probably is the easiest course you will ever take which delivers highest clinical content.

Q. What next?

A. To go back to the web page please hit "back" on your browser or click here.

To order the course right away by phone call toll free 1.888.TRU.SELF <878.7353>